

Things To Consider When Choosing Your Marquee Hire Company

Choosing a Marquee Hire company, for your wedding, festival, corporate event or other special occasion can take a lot of time and effort, trawling through many companies and requesting quotes either by email or on the phone.

It is important to make sure that your big day, be it a wedding or a big product launch goes perfectly, and the hire of the marquee and equipment is a major part of the overall occasion, so it is important to make sure you have done everything in your power to choose the correct company to supply your marquee and marquee equipment.

A few things to consider:

How Long Have They Been Trading? – A company that has been around a long time is more likely to not only be able to fulfil your needs, but also have that little extra experience in meeting not only the big details, but those all important minor ones.

Can They Cater For My Needs? – Some marquee hire companies specialise in weddings and some will only provide for business corporate occasions, so make sure they company you are looking at offers you the service you require. You can normally see this with a quick look at their website or marketing material and also check out their previous event's.

Do They Serve My Local Area? – Try to pick a local company or a company that will cover your event without charging a lot of money to travel to your area. If you are looking for a marquee in Gloucestershire, it makes sense to try and pick a company that is based either in or nearby that area.

Do They Have Good Recommendations? – A business is only as good as the customers its serves, so always make sure you ask for a written client testimonials about the experience of the marquee hire company you might be looking to hire.

Can I Get A Free Quote? – All quotes should be free. Never go with a company that will charge you for a quote, as this is an unnecessary waste of money and if the firms wants your business, they will quote for free.

Do I Really Know My Budget? – Always try and make sure you know how much you can afford to spend on the hiring of the marquee and the equipment. Knowing your budget will make sure you do not overspend or have any nasty shocks when the excitement of the event is over.

Can They Serve The Dates I Need? – Book early!! Marquee hire companies normally get booked up for key seasons well in advance, so if your getting married next year, try and have all of the marquee hire sorted well in advance, this will mean you will get the company you want and will not have any disappointments.
