

Visiting the Wye Valley and Forest of Dean for Your Next Holiday Break

If you are planning a getaway in the UK this year then look no further than the Wye Valley which winds its way through three counties, Herefordshire, Gloucestershire and Monmouthshire.

The Wye Valley is an area of outstanding natural beauty which really has to be seen to be believed. The area itself offers many things to tourists and visitors, from peaceful, tranquil walks in the countryside to high octane adventure in the form of rock climbing and canoeing.

Depending on what you want from your holiday the Wye Valley can offer everything you need. One area that must be explored is Symonds Yat East which offers a variety of holiday treats. If you just want to relax and enjoy the scenery then you can just sit back at one of the riverside pubs enjoying a drink and watching the activities unfold in front of you. If however you want to get more involved then why not have a go at canoeing.

It doesn't matter if you have never canoed before or are an expert; there are Professional qualified instructors on hand to help. You can gently paddle the River Wye or for the more adventurous take on the challenges that the River Wye can offer all safely carried out under supervision.

The area is the perfect place to take a break for individuals and groups alike, with accommodation offered in abundance. You can camp, let a holiday cottage or take the luxury of the riverside hotels, the choice really is yours.

There are many beautiful historic market towns nearby such as Monmouth, Ross-on-Wye and Chepstow where you can shop, eat or just enjoy a coffee. The Forest of Dean is very close by and is an area the River Wye passes through. The Forest of Dean is another area of outstanding natural beauty and one that must be visited when in Symonds Yat.
